

METHOD FOR ABATEMENT OF WASTE OXIDE GAS EMISSIONS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 The methods of the present invention relate to reducing and eliminating waste oxide gas emissions, produced by a first industrial process, by utilizing the emissions in a second industrial process that either is benefited by or tolerates the components of the waste oxide gas stream. These methods are applicable to numerous combinations of first industrial processes and second industrial processes.